Course Description

This course is designed to give students an introduction to the study of law in society. It is divided into three main parts. First, we will look at the ideological foundations of law in history and philosophy. Second, we will use this context to examine the law in practice in Canadian society. Finally, the course considers different theoretical approaches to the law in the post-modern world, including evolutionary ethics, predictive policing, and neuro-law.

Course Objectives/Learning Outcomes

By the end of the course students should be able to critically evaluate legal, philosophical, and theoretical texts and a variety of other materials. Students will also become more comfortable discussing the ways in which the law, politics, and society influence each other and how the law in Canada and other liberal democracies is made and reformed over time.

Methods of Evaluation

1. Written Assignment (30%) | February 16th, 2019

This assignment will involve critical responses to the assigned readings by John Locke and Edmund Burke. Context, direction, and guidance on both texts will be provided in the first lectures of the semester.

2. Test (25%) | March 11th, 2019

This test will be closed book. It will cover all material from week 1 to week 8, inclusive. The test will be a combination of multiple choice and short answer. A test review session will be held prior to the test. Students are expected to come prepared with questions.

3. Final Exam (30%) | TBD (Registrar-Scheduled)

This test will be closed book. It will cover all material from week 9 to week 14, inclusive. The test will be a combination of multiple choice and short answer. A test review session will be held prior to the test. Students are expected to come prepared with questions.

4. Critical Commentaries (15%) | Due: Throughout the Semester

You are required to submit to D2L six (6) 400-700-word (approx.) commentaries of what you learned over a particular week. The commentaries should not be a summary of what you learned but rather, an integrated synthesis of thoughts, ideas, and critical concepts that you were introduced to and continued to ponder over the course of the week. Submissions are due throughout the semester. You will choose which weeks to submit a commentary for and it is the responsibility of the student to ensure that they have submitted a total of 6 commentaries by the end of the term. Each submission accounts for 2.5% of your final grade. Commentaries will be graded on the following: depth of reflection, connections to real world cases, ability to provide sources for additional information provided, and the overall quality of the writing.

Note: While it is not necessary to pass all components, students must complete all assignments to pass the class.

Grading Scale

Letter grades will be assigned and submitted to the registrar based on the following scale:

Grade	Percent range	Grade Point Value	Description
A+	96 – 100%	4.0	Outstanding performance
A	90 – 95.99%	4.0	Excellent-superior performance
A-	85 – 89.99%	3.7
B+	80 – 84.99%	3.3
B	75 – 79.99%	3.0	Good – clearly above average performance
B-	70 – 74.99%	2.7
C+	67 – 69.99%	2.3
C	63 – 66.99%	2.0	Satisfactory - basic understanding
C-	59 – 62.99%	1.7
D+	55 – 58.99%	1.3
D	50 – 54.99%	1.0	Minimal pass - marginal performance
F	<50%	0	unsatisfactory performance

The grades for a course component may be scaled to maintain equity among sections and to conform to departmental norms.

Grade Reappraisal

Within two weeks of the date the exam/assignment is returned, students seeking reappraisal of examinations or assignments must submit a written response to the instructor explaining the basis for reconsideration of one's mark. The instructor will reconsider the grade assigned and will then book a time with the student to discuss his or her work and rationale. It should be noted that a re-assessed grade may be raised, lowered, or remain the same.
