COURSE DESCRIPTION AND OBJECTIVES
In this course we will critically analyze a central and contested theme in law and society: the connection between morality, human rights, and the law. The course will begin by examining a fundamental legal philosophical debate that deals with the place of morality in the law, followed by an examination of how classical sociological thinkers such as Weber, Durkheim, and Weber analyze the role of law in society with respect to morality and rights. Part II of the course will switch to the way in which morality and human rights are played out in different kinds of law (constitutional law, criminal law, and international law) and how this more general debate is manifested in controversial issues such as limitations on rights, the rights the victim and the rights of the accused, the difference between “rights” and “desires”, how to define and operationalize in law the notion of “universal” human rights and how to punish “extraordinary human evil”. Part III will involve a series of classroom presentations of student papers in a mock academic seminar format.
The goal of this course is to bring together many of the themes explored throughout the Law and Society program. Students will engage at a more sophisticated level with forms of texts that they have already encountered in the program including legal-philosophy, socio-legal analyses, case law, and practical jurisprudence. By emphasizing close textual analysis and weekly classroom discussions of the assigned readings, students will continue to hone their analytical and verbal communication skills.

READINGS AND REQUIRED TEXTS
There are 5 required books for this course. The following books are available for purchase in the university bookstore:

Patrick Devlin. The Enforcement of Morals (Oxford University Press, 1965). N.B. this book is out of print but the U of C Bookstore is reprinting copies for this course

The Court and the Charter, Leading Cases, Thomas M.J. Bateman, Janet L. Hiebert, Rainer Knopff, Peter H. Russell (eds.) (Edmond Montgomery, 2008)

All of the other readings are available for students to look up on-line.

REQUIREMENTS
Class Participation (15% of final grade)
Class participation will be evaluated on attendance (5%) and the quality and quantity of individual student’s participation in our weekly discussions of the topics and readings. (10%)

Conference Presentation (20% of final grade)
The last three weeks of the course will be taken up with student presentations of their final papers. These presentations will take the form of a mock academic conference in which the students will present their research on panels with other students presenting on similar themes. Each presentation will be approximately 15 minutes in length.
First Paper (25% of final grade) due Thursday, October 10, 2013
A short (5 pages double spaced) analytical paper in which the student will analyze an aspect of the moral foundations of law.

Second Paper (40% of final grade) due Thursday, December 5, 2013
A research paper (approximately 15 pages double spaced) on a topic selected by the student in consultation with the professor.

It is the student's responsibility to keep a copy of each submitted assignment. Note: Please hand in your essays through the digital drop box on the course website.

Final grades will be calculated based on the marks accumulated by students on each of the course requirements. Students do not need to pass each requirement to pass the course.

Registrar-scheduled Final Examination: NO

Policy for Late Assignments
Assignments submitted after the deadline will be penalized with the loss of a grade (e.g. A- to B+) for each day late.

Freedom of Information and Protection of Privacy Act
This course is conducted in accordance with the Freedom of Information and Protection of Privacy Act (FOIP). As one consequence, students should identify themselves on all written work by using their ID number. Also you will be required to provide a piece of picture identification in order to pick up an assignment or look at a final exam. Ethics

If you perform research with human participants (i.e. surveys, interviews, observation) as part of your university studies, you are responsible for following university research ethics guidelines. Your instructor must review and approve of your research plans and supervise your research. For more information about your research ethics responsibilities, see http://arts.ucalgary.ca/research/for-researchers/ethics.

Plagiarism

Using any source whatsoever without clearly documenting it is a serious academic offense. Consequences include failure on the assignment, failure in the course and possibly suspension or expulsion from the university.
You must document not only direct quotations but also paraphrases and ideas where they appear in your text. A reference list at the end is insufficient by itself. Readers must be able to tell exactly where your words and ideas end and other people's words and ideas begin. This includes assignments submitted in non-traditional formats such as Web pages or visual media, and material taken from such sources.

Please consult your instructor if you have any questions regarding how to document sources.

Internet and Electronic Communication Device Information

Students are welcome to use laptop computers for note taking ONLY. Cell phones must be put on mute and must not be used for making or receiving telephone calls or text messages.

Policy on Recording of Lectures

Recording shall be permitted for individual private study only at the discretion of the instructor. For any other use, whether by duplication, transcription, publication, sale or transfer of recordings, written approval must be obtained from the instructor for the specific use proposed. Any other use of recordings constitutes academic misconduct and may result in suspension or expulsion. For more information on recording of lectures please see: http://www.ucalgary.ca/pubs/calendar/current/e-6.html

Academic Misconduct

For information on academic misconduct and the consequences thereof please see the current University of Calgary Calendar at the following link: http://www.ucalgary.ca/pubs/calendar/current/k.html

Academic Accommodation Policy

If you are a student with a disability who may require academic accommodation, it is your responsibility to register with the Student Accessibility Services (220-8237) and discuss your needs with your instructor no later than fourteen (14) days after the start of the course. For further information, please see http://www.ucalgary.ca/access/

Emergency Evacuation and Assembly Points

Please note the evacuation points for this particular classroom. All classrooms on campus exit to specific places in case of emergency. The emergency assembly points differ depending upon where your classroom is located. For information on the emergency evacuation procedures and the assembly points see http://www.ucalgary.ca/emergencyplan/assemblypoints
"SAFEWALK" Program

Campus Security will escort individuals day or night -- call 403-220-5333 for assistance. Use any campus phone, emergency phone or the yellow phone located at most parking lot booths.

Student Representation

There are now four Arts reps, with the email addresses being arts1@su.ucalgary.ca, arts2@su.ucalgary.ca, arts3@su.ucalgary.ca, and arts4@su.ucalgary.ca. Please contact if you have questions related to Students Union matters, events, or concerns.
