COURSE OBJECTIVES/LEARNING OUTCOMES

The objective of this course is to introduce the basic subject matter and research findings of sociology. After completing this course, students will be familiar with conceptual and methodological tools that allow us to think sociologically. They will know the ways in which Canadian society is stratified and be able to link these forms of structured inequality to global patterns of stratification. They will understand how thinking sociologically can inform choices we make in everyday life and in policy debates.

COURSE DESCRIPTION

Part I provides an overview of major theoretical approaches in sociology, research methods that sociologists use and key concepts that structure our analyses of seven areas of sociological research. Part II uses the process of socialization to explore insights from microsociologies. Part III addresses structured inequality by examining class and stratification, gender and stratification, race, ethnicity and stratification, and aging and stratification. Urban sociology and community studies are discussed in Part IV. Part V examines the sociology of social change.
