Course Description
The dynamics of Indigenous groups' relations with each other and the larger society. Topics include decolonization and relations with the state, demography, Indigenous organizations, Indigenous nationalism and nation-building, power, social class and public policy.

Course Objectives/Learning Outcomes
This class aims to provide students with a comprehensive understanding of the historical and ongoing processes of colonization in Canada and the implications for our society today. In this class students will learn to deepen their understanding of their personal/familial history. Students will learn to better understand the social, political, health, and economic factors that have shaped the relationship between First Nations People and Canadian society. Students will also learn the background and systemic factors that may bring an Indigenous person into contact with the criminal justice system. In addition, students in this class will be able to improve their critical thinking, writing, referencing, and organizational skills through a series of critical commentaries. Lastly, students will improve their creative, listening, and oral communication by presenting an artistic work showcasing one of several issues including settler colonialism; racism; missing and murdered indigenous women; intergenerational trauma; decolonization; reconciliation; allies; and solidarity.

 Some of the topics we will discuss in this course may be upsetting. Readings and media may contain graphic descriptions of racism and sexual violence (e.g. missing and murdered Indigenous women). **

Course Format
This course will be entirely asynchronous. The course content will be delivered via podcast with one episode released each week throughout the semester. There are no exams and detailed instructions for each assignment will be posted the first week of class. All assignments are to be submitted electronically on or before the due date.

Learning Resources
Readings will be provided in the course D2L site.

Learning Technologies and Requirements
This class will be delivered by way of podcast. Students will need an internet connection and access to either a laptop or a mobile device. All course materials will be made available via D2L and the podcast website, the link of which will be made available on D2L upon the start of classes. Office hours will be held online weekly via Zoom. Students will need access to the following:

• Microphone and speaker (built-in or external), or headset with microphone;

Most current laptops will have a built-in webcam, speaker and microphone.

Schedule of Lectures and Readings
Class content will be released weekly. Students are expected to engage with the content at their own pace, while keeping up with assignments and due dates. The content of the lectures is subject to change. An outline of possible topics is provided below:

Methods of Assessment and Grading Weights

1. Auto Ethnography (20%) | Due: October 1st

In the spirit of storytelling and self-reflection, your first assignment will be to write a brief autoethnography, engaging in a scientific study of yourself and your culture. To write an autoethnography is to engage in a scientific study of yourself and your culture. Culture here does not have to mean ethnicity or socio-economic status or gender (although it could mean those things if you so choose). The essay you write will explore what it’s like to be you – a particular aspect of you. The essay will examine through an insider’s perspective what it’s like to be “x”. Think about a specific, distinctive aspect of yourself and examine how this has shaped you. Not only will you look at this component and its impact on you, but you will try to draw larger conclusions through research and analysis about the culture in general. Then you can take the analysis to the next level and see how your experience may be typical or atypical or how it may vary from other people’s understandings of what it is like to be “x.” Students will submit a 5 – 7 page (max) essay, not including references. No title page is needed. Examples will be provided on D2L. Students will submit their document to D2L. Allow two weeks for grades to be returned. Late assignments will be subject to deductions from 5 – 10%.

2. Critical Commentary (20%) | Due: November 5th
You are required to submit to D2L one critical commentary of what you learned over a particular week. The commentaries should not be a summary of what you learned but rather, they should be structured as an integrated synthesis of thoughts, ideas, and critical concepts that you continue to ponder. Commentaries will be graded on the following: depth of reflection, connections to class and to real world cases, ability to provide outside sources, and the overall quality of the writing.

3. Art Project (15%) + Write Up (25%) (Total 40%) | Due: November 26th
Students are expected to develop an art piece that communicates their learning throughout the course. This piece is a reflection of how the teachings and practices of this course has been experienced by you and has impacted your understanding of Indigenous experiences, health, victimization, or advocacy, among others. All forms of media are acceptable for the project and students are encouraged to be innovative and creative when designing their piece. This can be in any fine art or multi-media form. You can make a podcast, a painting, a song, record an interpretative dance. The choice is yours. In addition to the artwork itself, students will provide a reflective write-up. The write-up should discuss what the art piece is intended to communicate, why that subject was important to you, and how it connects back to class content. Examples will be provided. Students will submit through D2L. Late assignments will be subject to deductions starting at 10%.

4. Engagement (20%) | Due: Throughout the semester
Students will have the opportunity to engage in class polls, surveys, respond to multiple choice questions, and participate in other online activities throughout the semester. There will be one activity posted each week from Weeks 1 – 11. No activities will be posted in weeks 12 or 13. Students do not have to participate in every activity, but will have the opportunity to participate in activities until such time as the activities come to an end (week 11), or, students reach the full 20%. Participation in each activity accounts for 5%. Students will be graded on completeness and quality of response (if applicable).

Final Exam Information
There is no final exam for this class.
Grading Scale

Letter grades will be assigned and submitted to the registrar based on the following scale:

Absences and Deferrals

Students who miss class assessments (tests, participation activities, or other assignments) should inform their instructor as soon as possible. If the reason provided for the absence is acceptable, the instructor may decide that any arrangements made can take forms other than make-up tests or assignments. For example, the weight of a missed grade may be added to another assignment or test.

Deferred Final Exam Form: Please note that requests to defer a Registrar scheduled final exam are dealt with through the Registrar’s Office. Further information can be found at: https://www.ucalgary.ca/registrar/exams/deferred-exams

Deferred Term Work Form: Deferral of term work past the end of a term requires a form to be filled out by the student and submitted, along with any supporting documentation, to the instructor. The form is available at: https://live-ucalgary.ucalgary.ca/sites/default/files/teams/14/deferral-of-term-work-2020.pdf

Once an extension date has been agreed between instructor and student, the instructor will email the form to the Faculty of Arts Program Information Centre (ascarts@ucalgary.ca) for approval by the Associate Dean.
Grade Reappraisal

Students must wait 24 hours before contacting the TA or instructor for a grade reappraisal. After the 24 hour period, students then have two weeks from the date the exam/assignment is returned, to submit a written response to the instructor explaining the basis for reconsideration of one’s mark. The instructor will reconsider the grade assigned and will then book a time with the student to discuss his or her work and rationale. It should be noted that a re-assessed grade may be raised, lowered, or remain the same.

Handing in Papers, Assignments

1. The main Sociology Department office does not deal with any course-related matters. Please speak directly to your instructor.

2. Protection of Privacy: The Freedom of Information and Protection of Privacy (FOIPP) legislation does not allow students to retrieve any course material from public places. Anything that requires handing back will be returned directly during class or office hours. If students are unable to pick up their assignments from the instructor, they can provide the instructor with a stamped, self-addressed envelope to be used for the return of the assignment. Private information related to the individual student is treated with the utmost regard by the faculty at the University of Calgary.

3. Final grades are not posted by the Sociology Department. They are only available online.

Media Recording

Please refer to the following statement on media recording of students: https://elearn.ucalgary.ca/wp-content/uploads/2020/05/Media-Recording-in-Learning-Environments-OSP_FINAL.pdf

Media recording for lesson capture

The instructor may use media recordings to capture the delivery of a lecture. These recordings are intended to be used for lecture capture only and will not be used for any other purpose. Although the recording device will be fixed on the Instructor, in the event that incidental student participation is recorded, the instructor will ensure that any identifiable content (video or audio) is masked, or will seek consent to include the identifiable student content to making the content available on University approved platforms.

Media recording for self-assessment of teaching practices

The instructor may use media recordings as a tool for self-assessment of their teaching practices. Although the recording device will be fixed on the instructor, it is possible that student participation in the course may be inadvertently captured. These recordings will be used for instructor self-assessment only and will not be used for any other purpose.

Media recording for the assessment of student learning

The instructor may use media recordings as part of the assessment of students. This may include but is not limited to classroom discussions, presentations, clinical practice, or skills testing that occur during the course. These recordings will be used for student assessment purposes only and will not be shared or used for any other purpose.
Research Ethics

Students are advised that any research with human subjects – including any interviewing (even with friends and family), opinion polling, or unobtrusive observation – must have the approval of the Faculty Ethics Committee. In completing course requirements, students must not undertake any human subjects research without discussing their plans with the instructor, to determine if ethics approval is required.

Copyright Legislation

All students are required to read the University of Calgary policy on Acceptable Use of Material Protected by Copyright (https://www.ucalgary.ca/policies/files/policies/acceptable-use-of-material-protected-by-copyright-policy.pdf) and requirements of the Copyright Act (https://laws-lois.justice.gc.ca/eng/acts/C-42/index.html) to ensure they are aware of the consequences of unauthorized sharing of course materials (including instructor notes, electronic versions of textbooks etc.). Students who use material protected by copyright in violation of this policy may be disciplined under the Non-Academic Misconduct Policy.

Instructor Intellectual Property

Course materials created by professor(s) (including course outlines, presentations and posted notes, labs, case studies, assignments and exams) remain the intellectual property of the professor(s). These materials may NOT be reproduced, redistributed or copied without the explicit consent of the professor. The posting of course materials to third party websites such as note-sharing sites without permission is prohibited. Sharing of extracts of these course materials with other students enrolled in the course at the same time may be allowed under fair dealing.

Recording of Lectures

Note that the audio or video recording of lectures and taking screenshot of PowerPoint slides during the lecture are not permitted without explicit authorization. The non-authorized media recording of lectures is inconsistent with the Code of Conduct and may result in discipline in accordance with the Student Non-Academic Misconduct Policy and Procedure. For more information click here: https://www.ucalgary.ca/policies/files/policies/non-academic-misconduct-policy.pdf.

Sharing of Lecture Notes and Exam Questions

Note that publicly sharing lectures notes and exam questions on 3rd party sites such as OneClass, StudyBlue, Quizlet, Course Hero, etc. is not permitted. If you wish to use these helpful studying tools, make sure you adjust your privacy settings accordingly. Any violations are subject to investigation under the UofC Student Non-Academic Misconduct Policy. For more information, click here: https://www.ucalgary.ca/policies/files/policies/non-academic-misconduct-policy.pdf.

Academic Misconduct

Please refer to the website listed below for information on University of Calgary policies on Plagiarism/Cheating/Other Academic Misconduct:
http://www.ucalgary.ca/pubs/calendar/current/k.html

Academic Accommodation

Students seeking an accommodation based on disability or medical concerns should contact Student Accessibility Services; SAS will process the request and issue letters of accommodation to instructors. For additional information on support services and accommodations for students with disabilities, visit www.ucalgary.ca/access/. Students who require an accommodation in relation to their coursework based on a protected ground other than disability should communicate this need in writing to their Instructor. The full policy on Student Accommodations is available at: http://www.ucalgary.ca/policies/files/policies/student-accommodation-policy.pdf

Students needing an Accommodation based on a Protected Ground other than Disability, should communicate this need, preferably in writing, to the course instructor.
