Course Description

Why do members of society use force and fraud? That is, why do not people simply use socially acceptable means of attaining their wants and needs? This course will introduce students to the most prominent theories constructed in the sociology of deviance, crime, and social control. What is deviance and who has the ability to define it? Why and how does this definition change over time? Do we try to control seemingly harmless types of deviance too often? From our readings and congenial class discussions, we will explore these issues by considering how various sociological theories approach them. Students are warned that, at times, this class deals with graphic and violent themes in both lectures and videos.

Course Objectives/Learning Outcomes

Students in Introduction to Deviance and Social Control will learn how to:

1. Identify the differences between positivist and constructionist perspectives on crime, deviance, and social control.
2. Identify the most salient problems with measuring crime.
3. Explain ways in which crime statistics are generated.
4. Explain the main assumptions of each approach to crime, deviance and social control.
5. Evaluate the potential of each perspective examined.
6. Identify the key challenges of current responses to crime.

Required Textbooks, Readings, Materials, Electronic Resources

The following text will be used:

O'Grady, W. (2014). Crime in Canadian context: Debates and controversies (3rd ed.). Don Mills, Ontario: Oxford University Press.

A reader accompanies the text:

Heiner, R. (Ed.). (2014). Deviance across cultures (2nd ed.). Toronto: Oxford University Press.

Students will be expected to carefully consider each assigned reading before class and make use of the slide show notes available on Desire2Learn (D2L). D2L PowerPoint files do not represent an exhaustive set of notes and are not an alternative to attending class regularly. They are intended only to provide a brief outline of what will be covered in lectures and it is expected that you will need to take additional notes during class. Given the closure of the university, additional pdf notes about slide show content will be provided on D2L.

Schedule of Lectures and Readings

Please see “Schedule of readings” on D2L.

Methods of Assessment and Grading Weights

There are several opportunities for students to capture their grades. Exam dates are listed in the “Schedule of readings”. Students will have two mid-term examinations in true-false and multiple choice format. The mid-term examinations are both worth 30%, and they are not cumulative. Mid-term examinations will be held in our regular lecture theatre. All lecture and reading material is subject to evaluation. Therefore, it is important that students attend all classes and examine every reading in order to meet the demands of this course. Given departmental resources, there will be no deferred mid-term examinations. The percentage of the missed mid-term will be equally divided to the other examinations (i.e. 50/50). This policy will remain in effect during the closure of the university.

Final Exam Information

The final examination is worth 40% and will consist of true-false and multiple choice questions. It is not cumulative. It will be held online via D2L. Further instructions will be disseminated via a D2L news item and electronic mail. The date of the final examination will take place as per the current final examination schedule on your student centre.

Grading Scale

Letter grades will be assigned and submitted to the registrar based on the following scale:

Grade	Percent range	Grade Point Value	Description
A+	96 - 100%	4.0	Outstanding performance
A	90 - 95.99%	4.0	Excellent performance
A-	85 - 89.99%	3.7	Approaching excellent performance
B+	80 - 84.99%	3.3	Exceeding good performance
B	75 - 79.99%	3.0	Good performance
B-	70 - 74.99%	2.7	Approaching good performance
C+	67 - 69.99%	2.3	Exceeding satisfactory performance
C	63 - 66.99%	2.0	Satisfactory performance
C-	59 - 62.99%	1.7	Approaching satisfactory performance
D+	55 - 58.99%	1.3	Marginal pass. Insufficient preparation for subsequent courses in the same subject
D	50 - 54.99%	1.0	Minimal Pass. Insufficient preparation for subsequent courses in the same subject.
F	<50%	0	Failure. Did not meet course requirements.

Passing Grades

In order to pass the course, students must obtain 50% or more overall as per the grading scale.

Grade Reappraisal

Within two weeks of the date the exam/assignment is returned, students seeking reappraisal of examinations or assignments must submit a written response to the instructor explaining the basis for reconsideration of one's mark. The instructor will reconsider the grade assigned and will then book a time with the student to discuss his or her work and rationale. It should be noted that a re-assessed grade may be raised, lowered, or remain the same.

Inclusivity

We live in a diverse social world. Although diversity is often considered visible, that is often not the case. We frequently do not know what challenges others face because all aspects of their lives are simply not visible. Some students may live with a physical disability that is not always apparent, manage a learning disability, face anxiety and depression, or deal with internalized homophobia or transphobia. While it is impossible to know everyone's wants and needs, it is possible and important to generate an atmosphere of mutual respect and support. Student Accessibility Services provides examination accommodation for those who need it. In class, students should feel free to make the instructor aware of their preferred form of reference, and ideas on how to create a more effective and welcoming learning environment for everyone.

Handing in Papers, Assignments

1. The main Sociology Department office does not deal with any course-related matters. Please speak directly to your instructor.
2. Protection of Privacy: The Freedom of Information and Protection of Privacy (FOIPP) legislation does not allow students to retrieve any course material from public places. Anything that requires handing back will be returned directly during class or office hours. If students are unable to pick up their assignments from the instructor, they can provide the instructor with a stamped, self-addressed envelope to be used for the return of the assignment. Private information related to the individual student is treated with the utmost regard by the faculty at the University of Calgary
3. Final grades are not posted by the Sociology Department. They are only available online.

Research Ethics

Students are advised that any research with human subjects - including any interviewing (even with friends and family), opinion polling, or unobtrusive observation - must have the approval of the Faculty Ethics Committee. In completing course requirements, students must not undertake any human subjects research without discussing their plans with the instructor, to determine if ethics approval is required.

Copyright Legislation

All students are required to read the University of Calgary policy on Acceptable Use of Material Protected by Copyright (<https://www.ucalgary.ca/policies/files/policies/acceptable-use-of-material-protected-by-copyright.pdf>) and requirements of the Copyright Act (<https://laws-lois.justice.gc.ca/eng/acts/C-42/index.html>) to ensure they are aware of the consequences of unauthorized sharing of course materials (including instructor notes, electronic versions of textbooks etc.). Students who use material protected by copyright in violation of this policy may be disciplined under the Non-Academic Misconduct Policy.

Instructor Intellectual Property

Course materials created by professor(s) (including course outlines, presentations and posted notes, labs, case studies, assignments and exams) remain the intellectual property of the professor(s). These materials may NOT be reproduced, redistributed or copied without the explicit consent of the professor. The posting of course materials to third party websites such as note-sharing sites without permission is prohibited. Sharing of extracts of these course materials with other students enrolled in the course at the same time may be allowed under fair dealing.

Academic Misconduct

Absences and Deferrals

Students who are absent from class assessments (tests, participation activities, or other assignments) should inform their instructors as soon as possible. Instructors may request that evidence in the form of documentation be provided. If the reason provided for the absence is acceptable, instructors may decide that any arrangements made can take forms other than make-up tests or assignments. For example, the weight of a missed grade may be added to another assignment or test. For information on possible forms of documentation, including statutory declarations, please see <https://www.ucalgary.ca/pubs/calendar/current/m-1.html>

Deferred Final Exam Form: Please note that requests to defer a Registrar scheduled final exam are dealt with through the Registrar's Office. Further information can be found at: <https://www.ucalgary.ca/registrar/exams/deferred-exams>

Deferred Term Work Form: Deferral of term work past the end of a term also requires a form to be filled out. It's available at:

https://live-ucalgary.ucalgary.ca/sites/default/files/teams/1/deferred_termwork15_0.pdf

Once an extension date has been agreed between instructor and student, the form should be taken to the Faculty of Arts Program Information Centre (SS 110) for approval by an Associate Dean (Students).
