Course Description

Across time and space, societies widely differ in terms of how wrongdoers are sanctioned. In Canada, prison sentences are often handed out to convicted criminals. Many critics contend that sentences for the most heinous crimes are often too short.

How does the Canadian corrections policy operate when people are convicted of crime? What options are available to sanction convicted criminals? What logic underlies the various forms of punishment? These questions will be answered by examining how various sociologists have responded to them. Upon successful completion of Sociology 421, students will be able to critically assess the legitimacy of forms of punishment and explain how key sociologists perceived punishment.

Course Objectives/Learning Outcomes

Upon completion of this class, students will be able to:

1. Outline the main approaches to corrections.
2. Evaluate the promise and problems of each perspective on corrections.
3. Sketch out Canada's correctional history.
4. Identify challenges to Canada's correctional institutions.
5. Explain how positive social change can be implemented by altering how Canada deals with those convicted of Criminal Code offences.

The following text is required to complete this course:

Garland, David. (1990). Punishment and Modern Society. Chicago: University of Chicago Press.

Schedule of Lectures and Readings

Please see the schedule of lectures and readings on D2L.

Methods of Assessment and Grading Weights

There are three opportunities for students to capture their grades. Students will be expected to complete essay examinations. Further details on these examinations will be available on D2L. They will be based on all readings and lectures. Mid-term examinations will take place in the lecture theatre on the following dates:

Date	Percentage of Overall Grade
February 10	30
March 10	30
TBA by Registrar	40

IMPORTANT CHANGE FOR WINTER 2022

The first mid-term will be available on D2L at the beginning of class on February 10th at 9:30am and will be available for 24 hours. When you access the assessment, you will have the length of the class [i.e. 75 minutes] to complete and submit it. This assessment will consist of an essay. If you experience an issue that affects your ability to complete the assessment, which can include (but is not limited to) issues with technology, caregiving responsibilities, or distractions within your test-taking environment, you will need to contact your instructor as soon as possible to arrange an alternate or (in the case of technical issues) extended time to write the assessment.

Final Exam Information

The final examination will be schedule by the Registrar's Office. As with all examinations in this class, students may use their texts to aid them. No other resources will be allowed.

Grading Scale

Letter grades will be assigned and submitted to the registrar based on the following scale:

Grade	Percent range	Grade Point Value	Description

Passing Grades

As per the table above, students must earn 50% or more overall in this class to pass.

Grade Reappraisal

Within two weeks of the date the exam/assignment is returned, students seeking reappraisal of examinations or assignments must submit a written response to the instructor explaining the basis for reconsideration of one's mark. The instructor will reconsider the grade assigned and will then book a time with the student to discuss their work and rationale. It should be noted that a re-assessed grade may be raised, lowered, or remain the same.

Technology Use

Please be considerate of others when using technology in the classroom.

Handing in Papers, Assignments

1. The main Sociology Department office does not deal with any course-related matters. Please speak directly to your instructor.
2. Protection of Privacy: The Freedom of Information and Protection of Privacy (FOIPP) legislation does not allow students to retrieve any course material from public places. Anything that requires handing back will be returned directly during class or office hours. If students are unable to pick up their assignments from the instructor, they can provide the instructor with a stamped, self-addressed envelope to be used for the return of the assignment. Private information related to the individual student is treated with the utmost regard by the faculty at the University of Calgary
3. Final grades are not posted by the Sociology Department. They are only available online.

Research Ethics

Students are advised that any research with human subjects – including any interviewing (even with friends and family), opinion polling, or unobtrusive observation – must have the approval of the Conjoint Faculties Research Ethics Board. In completing course requirements, students must not undertake any human subjects research without discussing their plans with the instructor, to determine if ethics approval is required.
