PRE-REQUISITES:	Sociology 313 and 325, or Consent of Department
COURSE OUTLINE:	Students must print their own copy from the Department website

COURSE SCOPE AND OBJECTIVES

Variably defined and understood, violence is attracting more attention than ever before in academic circles as well as in the public arena. It has become a central feature of the 21st century, and students and ordinary citizens are hungry to understand its roots. This course examines these roots.

More specifically, the course is built around 3 principal goals:

- i) to examine and assess the socio-genesis and manifestation of, and resolution to, forms of aggression, violence and victimization;
- ii) to examine and assess the varied ways that forms of aggression, violence and victimization have been explained sociologically;
- iii) to expand conventional definitions of ‘sports violence’ and move toward a more inclusive -- and sociological -- understanding of ‘Sports-Related Violence’.

Essentially, then, this seminar-style and heavily interactive course investigates ‘violence’ using aspects of aggression, violence and victimization related to sport as its substantive focus. It will draw centrally from two literatures: Criminology and Sociology of Sport. The course is intended for senior students with an interest in these two main areas. As a 400-level specialized course, it assumes intimacy with concepts, theories and ideas taught in Sociology 325 (Deviance and Social Control). Substantively, it would also be helpful for students to have taken other 400-level Criminology Concentration classes as well as Sociology 399 (Sociology of Sport), but these are not essential or required.

An Important Note on Enrolling in this Block Week Course

Block week courses are compact and intense, and students should not enroll frivolously or for the wrong reasons. Along with strongly recommended pre-session reading (see pp. 4-5, Reading Assignments), students are expected to commit fully to the course -- that is, do the reading in a timely manner, engage with the materials, participate in class, and liaise reliably with group members, etc. -- in order to benefit from it both individually and as a group.

REQUIRED READING

The course requires two books. Although in different ways and with different emphases, both aim to explain the roots and manifestations of violence in society:

Kevin Young (2012). Sport, Violence and Society. Abingdon, UK: Routledge. This publication by the instructor examines what we mean by ‘violence’ and ‘sports violence’ specifically. Adopting a panoramic and global perspective, the book shows how apparently disparate articulations of ‘sports-related violence’ are sociologically connected

Steven Pinker (2011). The Better Angels of Our Nature: Why Violence has Declined. New York: Penguin. Pinker’s massively comprehensive, and brilliant, book brings together a wide range of material on violence as a modern and international cultural problem. It uniquely combines deep historical analysis and comprehensive theoretical discussion with rich empirical description in a global approach. His essential argument, in opposition to populist and often alarmist views, is that, overall, violence has declined.

Additional Readings: In class, students will be directed to required and preferred readings on a regular basis. A list of useful ‘Additional Readings’ will also be provided for students.

EXAMINATION / ASSESSMENT

Students are examined/assessed in 3 different ways:

1. Long Essay: Approximately two weeks after the end of Block Week (to provide time for absorption and reflection), and representing their overall position on the course content, students must submit a considered 10-page long essay. A detailed instruction sheet containing both the essay question itself and style guidelines will be given to students on ‘Day 1’ and posted on D2L. The long essay must be submitted directly to the instructor at his office (SS 932) between 3:30-5:30pm on Tuesday, September 26. Value: 60%.
2. Group Presentation: At the end of ‘Day 1’, students will assemble into groups of approximately 4/5 to begin to prepare for a presentation that will be made to the class, and discussed by the class, on the final day of Block Week -- Saturday September 9. A detailed instruction sheet will be given to students on ‘Day 1’. Time will be set aside for group presentation preparation daily. The presentation will represent an equal division of labour in all aspects. Since they depend on class enrolment, the exact format and duration of presentations will be decided once enrolment settles, but presentations will be approximately 20 minutes in duration, followed by a question-answer period lasting approximately 10 minutes. Value: 30%.
3. Class Participation: Since a) 400-level classes in the Department of Sociology are capped to allow students to benefit from a relatively ‘small group seminar’ experience, and b) Criminology Concentration classes allow students to critically engage with a specialist sub-topic, a portion of the overall mark will be given to ensuring, in a context of fairness and respect, that the class is fully participatory. Value: 10%.

NB: Public speaking is often intimidating; not all people enjoy it. This factor is acknowledged and built in to the allocation of the grade. However, Soci. 425 places emphasis on the creation – by the professor and students alike – of an interactive and respectful classroom climate conducive to listening, learning and critiquing. Students are required to attend and contribute to class discussion and debates. Attendance will be kept, and student involvement noted.

* In the case the Long Essay, a late penalty of 10% per day will apply. This is the most important deadline for this class, and whatever students have going on in their lives, they must make arrangements NOT to violate it. It is the responsibility of students, not the professor, to keep a copy of handed-in work.

GRADING SCALE

A+	95>
A	85-94
A-	80-84
B+	77-79
B	74-76
B-	70-73
C+	67-69
C	64-66
C-	60-63
D+	55-59
D	50-54
F	<49

Letter grades assigned at the conclusion of the course will be determined by an overall grading schema and letter scale that will be (i) discussed in class and (ii) applied in precisely the same way to everyone. Grade ‘cut-offs’ will be honoured in every case, including those where students miss the next letter grade by 0.1%. This is non-negotiable and, in the interests of fairness to everyone, no exceptions will be made.

CLASS CONTENT

As summarized in the table below, class content will feature a combination of lectures, group work and discussion, guest speakers and speaker panels, and videos. The exact timing of these activities will vary from day to day.

READING ASSIGNMENTS*

Because of the compact Block Week format and to facilitate an efficient start, students are strongly urged to read the following assigned material before classes commence:

Kevin Young (Sport, Violence and Society): Preface, Chapters 1, 4, 6, 8.

Steven Pinker (The Better Angels of Our Nature): Chapters 1, 2.

To be read during Block Week and before Long Essay submission:

Kevin Young (Sport, Violence and Society): Chapters 2, 3, 5, 7, Conclusion.

Steven Pinker (The Better Angels of Our Nature): Chapters 3, 9, 10.

* At relevant points during class, students will be given small blocks of time to read small sections of assigned material relevant to class that day. As such, students are required to bring both course books with them to class every day. It is expected that students should read at least one chapter every evening during Block Week. Once again, Block Week requires commitment and focus by students. In my experience, being distracted and/or not committing to this learning structure almost always ends in disappointing grades.

STUDENT RESPONSIBILITIES (posted by the Instructor)

1. A careful and punctual reading of the required material.
2. Regular attendance at lectures. (The University of Calgary has no policy of mandatory attendance, but attendance is strongly recommended.)
3. Advance notice to the instructor or the Department of Sociology main office (403-220-6502) if unable to comply with the schedule of exams. Students who do not provide this advance notice may not be allowed to retake exams. Also see note on 'Academic Accommodation' and 'Deferrals' below.
4. Students are responsible for familiarizing themselves with changes (e.g., additions and deletions) to this outline made in class.
5. Keep this outline. It will be your course reference throughout the term. Most of the questions students ask are answered on it. No hard copies will be provided.

Grade Reappraisal: Within two weeks of the date of an assignment, students seeking reappraisal must submit a written request to the instructor explaining the basis for reappraisal. The instructor will consider the circumstances, check the scoring, and communicate his decision to the student. In all cases a re-assessed grade may be raised, lowered, or remain the same.

Passing Grades: It is not required that students record a passing grade on any one assignment in order to pass the course overall.

Use of Technology: Please note that the use of laptops, tablets, cell phones or other electronic devices are only permitted during lectures for class-related purposes. Where cell phones in particular are concerned, please be respectful and remember to mute your cell phone and refrain from using it during class.

Email Etiquette: Feel free to contact me over email at any time. Indicate your course number in your email's subject line, and include a respectful salutation, your full name, student ID, and a proper closing in the body of your email. All emails violating customary email conventions will be ignored. All other emails will be answered as quickly as possible. Questions that can be answered by consulting the course outline will not be responded to. Questions regarding course content and readings, concerns about grades, or any other personal issues are best dealt with during office hours.

STUDENT RESPONSIBILITIES (posted by the University)

Emergency Evacuations: In the case of fire or other emergency evacuation of this classroom, please proceed to the closest assembly point. Please check these assembly point locations for all of your classes at: <http://www.ucalgary.ca/emergencyplan/assemblypoints>

Deferrals: If possible, you must provide advance notice to the instructor if you are unable to take a test or submit an assignment or essay on time. All requests for deferral of a course component due to health reasons must be accompanied by written documentation as outlined in the University Calendar and should be obtained while the student has the physical or emotional problem rather than after recovery. Deferrals will be allowed in the following circumstances: illness, domestic affliction or religious conviction. Travel arrangements and misreading of the syllabus are not valid reasons for requesting a deferral. Deferrals will not be granted if it is determined that just cause is not shown by the student.

If you have missed a test for a legitimate reason, the instructor can require you to write a ‘make-up’ test as close in time to the original test as possible or can choose to transfer the percentage weight to another course component. If the instructor schedules a ‘make-up’ test for you, its date and location will be at the convenience of the Department of Sociology.

Deferred Final Exam Application:

<https://www.ucalgary.ca/registrar/student-forms>

Deferred Term Work Form:

https://www.ucalgary.ca/registrar/files/registrar/deferred_termwork15_0.pdf

Once an extension date has been agreed between instructor and student, the form should be taken to the Faculty of Arts Program Information Centre (SS110) for approval by an Associate Dean (Students).

Ethics Research: Students are advised that any research with human subjects -- including any interviewing (even with friends and family), opinion polling, or unobtrusive observation -- must have the approval of the Departmental Ethics Committee. In completing course requirements, students must not undertake any human subjects research without discussing their plans with the instructor, to determine if ethics approval is required.

Academic Misconduct: Plagiarism, cheating and other academic misconduct are regarded as serious academic offences. Students are advised to consult the University Calendar which presents a Statement of Intellectual Honesty and definitions and penalties associated with cheating, plagiarism, and other academic misconduct. Please see:

<http://www.ucalgary.ca/pubs/calendar/current/k-2-1.html>

The Freedom of Information and Protection of Privacy (FOIP) legislation disallows the practice of having students retrieve assignments from a public place, e.g., outside an instructor’s office or the Department main office. Written assignments must be returned to students individually, during class, or during the instructor’s office hours; if a student is unable to pick up her/his assignment s/he may provide the instructor with a stamped, self-addressed envelope to be used for the return of the assignment.

Safewalk: The University of Calgary provides a “safe walk” service to any location on Campus, including the LRT, parking lots, bus zones, and campus housing. For Campus Security/Safewalk call 220-5333. Campus Security can also be contacted from any of the “Help” phones located around Campus.

Academic Accommodation: The student accommodation policy can be found at: ucalgary.ca/access/accommodations/policy.

Students needing an Accommodation because of a disability or medical condition should communicate this need to Student Accessibility Services in accordance with the Procedure for Accommodations for Students with Disabilities ucalgary.ca/policies/files/policies/student-accommodation-policy.

Students needing an accommodation based on a Protected Ground other than Disability, should communicate this need, preferably in writing, to the course instructor.

Handing in Papers Outside of Class, Return of Final Papers, and Release of Final Grades:

1. When students are unable to submit papers in class, they should make arrangements to hand in their papers directly to the instructor or teaching assistant. Papers will not be accepted in the main Sociology Department office.
2. Final papers will not be returned through the main Sociology Department office. The Freedom of Information and Privacy (FOIP) legislation disallows the practice of having students retrieve assignments from a public place (i.e. outside an instructor's office, the department office etc.) Students who want their final papers returned by mail must attach a stamped, self-addressed envelope with the paper. Otherwise final papers will be available for pick-up only during the instructor's office hours at the end of this term or at the beginning of the next term.
3. Final grades are not posted by the Sociology Department. They are available only online.

Failing a Test but Passing the Course: In order to pass the course overall a student does not have to record a passing grade on all of the assignments.

Student Representation: The 2017-18 Students' Union VP Academic is Tina Miller (suvpaca@ucalgary.ca).
