COURSE OBJECTIVES: The purpose of this course is to critically review the theoretical and empirical literatures regarding topics related to families and work. A key objective of this course is for students to learn how to interpret and evaluate theoretical arguments, hypotheses and research findings, particularly those published in quantitative articles. This will be achieved by reviewing and discussing articles in detail in class and by students demonstrating their skills in interpreting theoretical arguments and research findings in class discussions, quizzes and take-home essay assignments.

COURSE REQUIREMENTS: Your grade for this course will be based on one in-class quiz, two take-home essays, an in-class presentation and class participation. All quizzes and essays will be based on lectures and the assigned readings. You will be required to interpret data and statistical findings in the context of theoretical arguments. You will be accountable for materials that are assigned, regardless of whether or not they are discussed in class. As well, you will be accountable for any additional information covered in class that is not covered in the readings.

ADDITIONAL INFORMATION

- Deferrals: You must provide advance notice to the instructor if you are unable to write an exam or submit an essay on its designated date. All requests for deferral of an exam or essay due to health reasons must be accompanied by written documentation as outlined in the University Calendar and should be obtained while the student has the physical or emotional problem rather than after recovery. Deferred exams or essays may be allowed in the following circumstances: illness, domestic affliction or religious conviction. Travel arrangements, work schedules or misreading of the syllabus are not valid reasons for requesting a deferred exam or essay. Deferred exams or essays will not be granted if it is determined that just cause is not shown by the student and you will receive a 0 for that component of the course. If you have missed a test for a legitimate reason, the instructor can require you to write a make-up-test as close in time to the original test as possible or the instructor may choose to transfer the percentage weight to another course component. The make-up test may be a different format (e.g., essay, oral) than the original test at the discretion of the instructor. The scheduled date and location of the make-up exam will be at the convenience of the Sociology Department. Please note that requests to defer a final examination or to defer term work past the end of a term go through the Undergraduate Programs Office (UPO) and must be processed by the deadlines that are established in the U of C Calendar. The forms you need are:

Deferred Final Exam Application:

<http://www.ucalgary.ca/registrar/files/registrar/fall-2016-deferred-application-form.pdf>

Deferred Term Work Form: http://www.ucalgary.ca/registrar/files/registrar/deferred_termwork15_0.pdf

Once an extension date has been agreed between instructor and student, the form should be taken to the Faculty of Arts Program Information Centre (SS 110) for approval by an Associate Dean (Students).

- There are no re-writes on any exams or essays in this class and no extra credit work will be given. If you anticipate any difficulties meeting any of the class requirements, please make sure to discuss your concerns with the professor before the exam is scheduled or the essay is due.
- If you must miss class, borrow the notes from one of your classmates. Try early on in the course to set up a “buddy system” to help each other in the event of missed classes. See the professor to clarify anything you do not understand.
- Grade Reappraisal: Within two weeks of the date the exam/assignment is returned, students seeking reappraisal of examinations or assignments must submit a written response to the instructor explaining the basis for reconsideration of one’s mark. The instructor will reconsider the grade assigned and will then book a time with the student to discuss his or her work and rationale. It should be noted that a re-assessed grade may be raised, lowered, or remain the same.
- The Freedom of Information and Protection of Privacy (FOIP) legislation disallows the practice of having students retrieve assignments from a public place, e.g., outside instructor’s office, the department office, etc. Term assignments must be returned to students individually, during class or during the instructor’s office hours; if students are unable to pick up their assignments from the instructor, they provide the instructor with a stamped, self-addressed envelope to be used for the return of the assignment. Grades are not available through email, phone or the Sociology office. They are available on D2L only. When students are unable to submit papers in class, they should make arrangements to hand in their papers directly to the instructor rather than at the Sociology Department main office.

- Student Representation: The 2016-17 Students' Union VP Academic is Alicia Lunz (suvpaca@ucalgary.ca). The Faculty of Arts has four SU representatives who may be contacted at any of the following email addresses: arts1@ucalgary.ca, arts2@ucalgary.ca, arts3@ucalgary.ca, and arts4@ucalgary.ca. Please provide academic accommodation letters to the instructor as early in the semester as possible and no later than two weeks after the course begins.
- Intellectual honesty is the cornerstone of the development and acquisition of knowledge and requires that the contribution of others be acknowledged. As a result, cheating or plagiarism on any assignment or examination are regarded as serious academic offenses. Students are advised to consult the University Calendar which presents a Statement of Intellectual Honesty and definitions and penalties associated with plagiarism, cheating, and other academic misconduct. Please refer to the website listed below for information on University of Calgary policies on Plagiarism/Cheating/Other Academic Misconduct: <http://www.ucalgary.ca/pubs/calendar/current/k-2-1.html>.
- Ethics Research: Students are advised that any research with human subjects, including any interviewing (even with friends and family), opinion polling, or unobtrusive observation, must have the approval of the Faculty Ethics Committee. In completing course requirements, students must not undertake any human subjects research without discussing their plans with the instructor, to determine if ethics approval is required.

Using your laptop for purposes other than taking notes (e.g., watching videos, playing solitaire, etc.) will be considered disruptive behavior. Students violating the policy will be asked to cease doing so and may be disallowed from using a laptop in future classes. Recording devices may be used only if you have permission from the professor.

Please take that into account when emailing me questions pertaining assignments or exams. If you have a course-related question, please check the course outline first. Questions that can be answered by consulting the course outline will not be answered. Also, please e-mail me for administrative purposes only, for example to set up an appointment. Please do not use e-mail as a replacement for an office visit, if there is something you want to discuss. Questions about the course content and readings, concerns about grades, or any other personal issues should be dealt with in person during my office hours.
- The main Sociology Department office does not deal with any course-related matters. Please speak directly to your instructor.
